One part of a recent survey caught my attention: The strongest correlate of opinion on climate change is partisan affiliation. Two-thirds of Republicans (67%) say either that the Earth is getting warmer mostly because of natural changes in the atmosphere (43%) or that there is no solid evidence the Earth is getting warmer (24%).

That's it. The color change shows that a blast occurred. The purpose? One stated goal is to monitor soldiers. The problem is that they may survive the immediate blast event, but suffer delayed brain damage -- called traumatic brain injury (TBI). The blast detector described here could document the blast, thus serving as a warning that the soldier needs medical attention for a condition that ...

Amy Adams won't commit to $11.7b, but she too has now become the third person to fall down the imaginary fiscal hole. How can National claim to have any soundness on finance if they won't admit their criticisms on the economy are unreasonable and unfounded? And besides, aren't National actually worse fiscal managers if ordinary people tend to get paid less under their regimes?

We strive for articles in an impartial tone that document and explain major points of view, giving due weight with respect to their prominence. We avoid advocacy, and we characterize information and issues rather than debate them. In some areas there may be just one well-recognized point of view; in others, we describe multiple points of view, presenting each accurately and in context rather ...
